
Who wants to be an exhibitionist ?

Posted by SvoChuck - 2008/04/18 18:43

Get ready Race Fans ! We are going into the heart of knuckle draggers ! For some FREE racing ! I'm still working on the details but plan on it being a sponsor paying, NASA race for 944-SPEC ! We will also be able to show off the cars to all of the crowd before and after the nights races .

So get out those mud flaps and mullet wigs . It's going to be FUN !

More details to come, and YES I am working this for Colorado National Speedway also.

This will also really help on sponsor search due to the number of fans that will see our cars !

I have a couple extra RA1s to burn up on the right side of the car. Sounds like fun !

Is it dirt or Tarmac ?? I realized maybe I don't have tires for that.....

I'm in! Dirt or pavement. I even have tires on rims with real tread! I might have to watch more NASCAR though. How do you find the line on an oval track?

JUNE 28th ! Get ready for one fun night of turning ... LEFT !

we will also put on a small car show in support of NASA so even if you don't race that night please make plans to help us support NASA .

Thanks

Yep - I probably won't race at this one, but I'd be up for coming down to spectate/help out/feed my inner redneck/etc.

Should be some good old-fashioned Saturday night short-track fun!

Dang Lee. Hope you get it back together soon.

Weston, you're in right? I mean, it's just like one big spin in a 1/4 mile oval. You should win this one for sure! ;)
