

Buttonwillow, April 5 & 6

Posted by dancing944 - 19 Mar 2014 14:43

Hey gang, don't forget to sign up in the next couple days for Buttonwillow in early April. It's always a great track for some good action.

Also, please take a minute to fill out the survey NASA recently sent out. They need help gauging participation for upcoming events, including Laguna Seca and Sonoma.

Thanks,

Everett

Thanks for the info on the Enduro, Tom. Since Lil'Kat's car does not have any headlights, we will not be able to race the Enduro with you folks. Dang, that would have been fun to do. Lil'Kat has never done an enduro before.

Just pop it in a box and I can PM you my address. I am doing a 928 unit for another friend so I can do them both at the same time while I have all my equipment out. Let me know.

Hey Fox.

Ryan has offered run first hour of endure for fun(which will be light) for super size price. He did this last year but have not heard yet this year. I would hit him up.

Thomas, glad your car is running. Glad you gave them Nor cal guys a run.
