

Old dog looking for best car avail.

Posted by BobSoCal - 20 Nov 2011 16:02

Hi- I am new to Spec 944, I have been a racer for a long time, my fast days are long ago, but my son is now interested and the Spec 944 looks good, you guys have done a good job on a lot of areas. Long ago I figured out the hard way the best money you can spend is starting with a winning car, don't reinvent the wheel, last years winner is this years bargain- it works for me.

SO who has the best car for sale ? will travel, can afford the car but want a winner, what is for sale ?

Thanks, Bob

=====

Re: Old dog looking for best car avail.

Posted by norman#99 - 21 Nov 2011 06:45

Bob, give me a call 928 254 5400

=====

Re: Old dog looking for best car avail.

Posted by rlofgren - 24 Nov 2011 00:22

My #23 is available. An 84 non sunroof(light) with fresh 88 motor, short 5th and good LSD. Lap record holder at Infineon. See the writeup on the main page:

944spec.org/944SPEC/news/1-latest/197-tr...-autopoint-challenge

=====

Re: Old dog looking for best car avail.

Posted by loftygoals - 24 Nov 2011 21:56

Email or call. I have the perfect car for you...

BJ Meyer

214-532-0656

This e-mail address is being protected from spambots. You need JavaScript enabled to view it

=====

Re: Old dog looking for best car avail.

Posted by Salanis42 - 28 Nov 2011 10:12

My '88 924S is also available in NorCal. It had a good record in the Colorado region. I didn't win, but it was only my first year racing and I was able to keep good pace. Just got it aligned and corner weighted too.

944spec.org/944SPEC/forum/for-sale-944-c...c-1988-924s-now-5500

=====