Is this car still for sale? If so, do you have any more images?

Hey all,

So sorry for the delayed response. I forgot my password to the forums and when I tried to change it it sent the temporary password to an email address I can no longer access. Long story short I have not been able to log into the forums for months.

I decided to take the car off the market and finish building it. My decision to sell was prompted by plans to move out of state several months ago but that fell through so I decided to keep it. I appreciate the interest in the car though!

Thanks!
