

Freshly rebuilt head for sale

Posted by dmdirks - 25 Jan 2013 14:34

I have a newly rebuilt 944 head for sale for the 83-87 LC engine. This head has not been installed. It is the late casting and has a competition valve job, new guides, seals, and has been resurfaced to 0.895" (limit is 0.891 for LC.) The cam tower mating surface has also been resurfaced. This is $600+ worth of machining and parts, not including the casting. $400.

Thanks!

Dave,

I'm interested. Instead of shipping would it be possible to send it down with one of the RM guys to a Texas event?

I'm still enjoying the bottom end you built that's in my car!

Cheers,

Ryan

Hi Ryan,

I'm sure we can figure out something for transport.

Glad to hear your engine is serving you well!

Let me know your e-mail address so we can work out the details.

Thanks!
