

15x7 Late Phone Dials and Proxes RR

Posted by brad.t - 02 Jun 2016 19:42

Hey guys, have 2 sets of late offset phone dials.

Both are pretty ugly but could clean up with some elbow grease and a can of silver.

One set has a set of Proxes RR with 1.5 track weekends (killed the engine the second day...).

I'm in the Cumming GA area.

Well, how much for just the tires?

'Tis a good question, though I may be lazy on two counts - 1, taking them somewhere to be dismantled and 2, shipping. I figure if you did the work for me then $250?

Okay, well, I am in no way able to do that, as my arms are just short of 2000 miles long. I just thought I would ask, in the hopes we could work something out. I will check the track in June for some throw aways. Thanks.

Hah, yes that will make it difficult.

If they aren't picked up from someone local I may consider it.
