

Track records with non spec tires

Posted by cbuzzetti - 05 Apr 2011 15:20

I brought this up in the middle of a different thread but I think this warrants its own space.

If any tire is allowed then there has to be some way of dealing with track records. If records are broken with faster tires and we go back to Toyos then there is no chance of the records being broken again.

I am recomending that we put track records on hold until we are all back on a spec tire.

Any thoughts?

Re: Track records with non spec tires

Posted by Sterling Doc - 05 Apr 2011 15:29

I talked with Ken Huey, our webmaster, on this.

We will probably keep a separate listing.

Re: Track records with non spec tires

Posted by cbuzzetti - 05 Apr 2011 15:48

Thanks for being on top of all this stuff going on Erik.

Not sure how you find the time to be a doctor, dad, husband, father and Nat Director. Good Job!!!
