

Lifters 4 sale

Posted by RacerX - 22 Oct 2011 12:05

I finally got all those lifters cleaned up and ready to go. There was 208 lifters in the buckets.

Here's what I did.....

I cleaned up all the lifters and inspected them.

I threw away quite a few, 72 in all. Some had rust on the outside, some were dented, some had just came apart.

I took a pump oil can

I filled each lifter through the hole.

944-SPEC - 944SPEC - low cost wheel to wheel racing

Those that didn't pump up I threw away, the rest I set aside and let sit for a day. Ones that stayed pumped up I put in one pile and ones that bleed back down overnight in another.

I have 5 sets that stayed pumped up overnight.

I have 10 sets that will bleed back down overnight, but will pump up again with oil pressure.

I've only posted this here on the 944-Spec board. I'd like to give first crack at these to fellow racers who need them before I post them for sale elsewhere. I've checked eBay prices and the lowest I've found is $50 + shipping for a used set.

SOLD OUT

5 sets of 8 lifters that stayed pumped up overnight..... $40 includes shipping

Jerry, if you are OK with it, would you mind sending a check for two sets? I'll pay you at Infineon next weekend. He can just ship to you and I'll get them whenever. I don't have an immediate need.

No Problem

A check will go out in the morning

Ken - do you have an e-mail address ?

I can be reached at nasa at whitteridge dot org

I'd like 1 stays pumped set, but I just left for training and am out of state for the next two weeks without a checkbook. I can do paypal if you want, or get a money order out here if that's okay.

Ryan, I'll put a set aside for you and whenever you get to it that will be fine.

Jerry, I'll put my email on the bottom of the first post right below my address and phone number.
