

Talk to me about traqmate, lads

Posted by tcomeau - 26 Nov 2012 20:37

I might want to take the plunge and pull others in with me. I know it's been good for Eric K. and Neal A.

Experiences? Best source? Compatibility issues?

Re: Talk to me about traqmate, lads

Posted by cbuzzetti - 27 Nov 2012 07:47

Hey Tim, I have not used Traqmate before but I have used DA in the past with good results. The single most important thing it will teach you is that the driver is the weak link. Minimize and reduce mistakes and you will go faster.

The car I am buying has Traqmate in it so I will be using mine every session. It does become cumbersome to download data and examine but it is beneficial. And it provides an in car timing system too.

See you out there.
