

Hawk DTC - 60 pads on sale

Posted by Sterling Doc - 17 Jan 2013 15:45

Guys, the Hawk DTC - 60 front pads are on sale for 25% off. I find that these work really well with a Hawk Blue, or HT-10. Much less pedal pressure (more bite) than my previous Blue/HP+ combo (F/R). You can access the sale here:

Thanks - I've been eyeing these for a while to move off the Blues front and rear. Think I'll give them a try.

A set of these went on before the last race. About how many week ends should I expect to get out of a set of these? I know it largely depends on tracks and what not, but I'd like to gauge if it worth it to go ahead and get another set at this price.

You should get through most, if not all of a regular season on one set (if no enduros)
