Lines were stupid long last year. The parking people are union park people so they are crazy slow at taking your fee and getting you in.

That is the MO for other events as well like when the gates open for an hour or so..

Last year hundreds of trailers were all line up waiting for them to let us in fri eve.

SF something has track till 5pm. So unless Ryan writes we can get in, it might just be for them?

I will write turn coat Charlie in the eo30's camp and see if they will do the south end and give us closer the turn 11.

I confirmed with Ryan that the paddock opens at 10AM Friday - the 6PM on the signup site is incorrect.

I am not 100% on my time yet, but I aim to leave home in san jose around 2-3pm.
