

Question: Numbers

Posted by LVkid76 - 24 Aug 2009 02:50

I am wondering about the numbers on the car. I am going to join Nasa, and I was reading about the numbers and the Backgrounds. I have noticed on alot of the pictures of everyones cars that have different backgrounds. Upon joining Nasa do they provide a square background and numbers or should I go get vinyl done.

Also read I need to add a 12 sq inch sticker in bright orange to the rear for being a rookie, along with an R after the numbers. Do they provide that too or I need to get done myself.

Sorry might sound stupid but not really clarified on their website. Well that I could find.

You need to get your own numbers and R's. Check with your local region to make sure the number you want is available in your class.

If you like the 944-SPEC.org number plates on some of the NorCal 944-Spec cars they are $50/set for the left and ride side doors.

You can order them from
