

season points for 2008 and race drops

This is up for discussion.

First of all drops as we talked about we plan on allowing 4 drops (2 weekends).

Now the championship points . I spoke with Rick tonight and we talked about allowing a more relaxed view for teams. Basicly you can earn championship points for a driver or a car #. So #24 is owned by me but if I sell it to someone they can have the championship points it has earned. Or if Rick drives Gary's car the car can earn those points ...

Pretty much just race and have fun and do not any rules get in the way of someone getting that championship from Der Kommissar.

I have been watching this thread with interest, and will be starting up a similar conversation in the Midwest. Thanks for all the good thoughts & info guys!
